Department of Architecture at the Rhode Island School of Design,

Recognition: A Follow-Up Statement in Relation to the Listening Session, 2020 with the Rhode Island School of Design's Administration
A Statement of Issues brought up and represented by the RISD BIPOC & Community. Sent on Friday, June 19th, 2020.

This statement bears witness to a profound lack of understanding, awareness, and imagination from the dean, chair, and faculty of the Andrews University School of Architecture & Interior Design. Despite the fact that the school's current motto is 'world changers for a changing world' the leadership has continually disregarded the needs and requests of students and alumni.

Our design family trees

"Documentation of a cultural genealogy of resistance... connects oppositional practices from the past with forms of resistance in the present, thus creating spaces of possibility where the future can be imaged differently... in such a way that we can witness ourselves dreaming, moving forward and beyond the limits and confines of fixed locations."

bell hooks,
"Black Vernacular: Architecture
as Cultural Practice"

How does this work?

- Link to this presentation is in the chat
- Illustrate your lineage by uploading photos to the category slides
- “Insert > Image” or drag and drop from your computer into the slide
- Copy the ‘Name’ text boxes to label your image/s legibly
- Use stars to “second” and emphasize
- You’re a designer - change colors, fonts, etc as desired!
